MATT WELLS MATCHED WITH LANG

English Champion Will Meet Hilliard at Toronto, May 21— Well's Poor Showing Against McFarland Due to Cancel- ling of Previous Bouts.

New York, April 29.—George McDonald, manager of Matt Wells, the English lightweight champion, announced today that Wells had been matched to meet Hilliard Lang, the new Stud-lum, Toronto, about the 21st of May, and would leave New York shortly to begin training in Toronto for the match.
McDonald also issued a statement saying that he was "surprised at Wells' putting up such a poor show on Friday," when Wells met Puckey Mc-Farland. McDonald said that Wells was to have met Jack Corey in Boussac at April 11 and again in Pittsburg on April 15, but that Corey wired that "Pittsburg had called their bout off."
Meanwhile Wells had signed to meet Puckey, and was left no time to get a fight before the match, although Bolling, Wells' trainer, wanted Wells to have a couple of fights before meeting McFarland.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL.

READING BOOMS AGAIN.
Eclipsed All its Previous Records in Last Hour by Three Points.
New York, April 29.—Aside from another sharp advance in the prominent anti-trust shares and more or less obvious manipulation at higher prices, the market was characterized by a general tone of today's market was hesitating and dull. Last week's sensational trading in Reading was reasonably heavy. Traders seemed indisposed to buy or sell Steel pending the publication of its quarterly statement tomorrow. As for Union Pacific, its advance was not calculated to inspire any ventures on the bull side. The backwardness of Amalgamated Copper was the more evident in view of the fact that the strength of some outside copper properties. There were gains of one to four points in a score of specialties, including National Steel, American Writing Paper, preferred, American Sugar, Virginia-Carolina Chemical and Pullman Palace Car.
In the last hour the entire market gave a better account of itself, with greater strength in Steel and Union Pacific, while Reading rose to the best of the day and eclipsed all previous high prices by over three points. The closing was dull but strong, with a jump of 13 points in Central New Jersey, which is controlled in large part by the Reading company. Delaware and Hudson, another road, rose 11-4 points, and there was symmetrical advances in the general list.
No small part of the day's irregularity was ascribed to the uncertainty and anxiety connected with impending political and industrial events. Though the differences between the railway managers and the engineers are assured to be moving toward a satisfactory adjustment, it is realized that some important points in the concession remain to be settled. There were other adverse speculative factors, including the latest turn in the international market. Harvester proceedings and a few unsatisfactory railroad reports. Harvester declined two points early in the day and made but slight recovery. Northern Pacific reported a small net increase, for March, but the Rock Island system lost over $350,000 in net for that month.
